Coshiva

COSHIVA is not only a singer songwriter and multi-instrumentalist but that rarest of things, a writer of depth who manages to retain a broad appeal. Her songs are crafted and maintain great pop hooks, though based in Vienna, Austria she originally hails from Salzburg and having taken the Austrian and German markets by storm she is set to take her music to a much broader audience, singing in English you can't fail to feel a distinctly contemporary affinity to her music.

Here's what the press have to say:

"This female singer-songwriter from Salzburg is brimming in originality, positivity and great vibes - musically and personally. She plays piano, guitar, mandolin, and the Ukulele or guitarle her music commands any audience to enjoy, be delighted and above all its way cool and got to be heard!"

"Her new songs like a big balloon inviting you to soak up the fun and embrace life. Other tracks such as 'Best Friends' or 'Sunday Afternoon' are intelligent pop, all in all great music powerfully produced and with heart... above all really catchy, you'll be humming away before you know what you're doing. A great artist, ready to open a new chapter".

Stop press: her single 'Sunday Afternoon' is charting at No.33 in the Austrian charts and we are currently looking for UK labels for distribution.
